

SETTING THE TABLE FOR THE MARIST COMMUNITY

"... God has touched us and given us a Marist heart. Certainly, more than our decision, it has been God taking the initiative. We cannot live any other way. We are Marists."

"We Brothers and Lay people have much more in common than particular in our vocation: we both share the beauty and the limits of the human condition at this historical time, we live the same Christian vocation through baptism, and we have felt the call of God that drew us to the Marist charism."
